Education Session :
Aminata Conteh-Biger

Friday 11 June at 6pm (Brisbane time) 1 hour CPD

Growing up in Freetown in civil war-ravaged Sierra-Leone, Aminata enjoyed a charmed childhood. She and her siblings were raised in the 'big yellow house on the hill' by their beloved father, Pa Conteh.

Today, Aminata continues to work tirelessly to make a difference in maternal health to the women in Sierra Leone through the Aminata Maternal Foundation. Her goal is to raise awareness of the challenges of access to maternal health in Sierra-Leone, find working solutions in the community, while highlighting the country's extraordinary beauty. In Aminata's memoir, Rising Heart, she wholeheartedly expresses her vision, which is to empower midwives through training, to improve the effects of ill maternal health and to build a maternity hospital in Sierra Leone.
