Member Highlight Story: Al Siegel

President Ginny interviewed club member Al and we learned some little known facts about him. Al was recruited by Otto Austel 19 years ago because Otto told Al he wouldn't write anymore prescriptions if Al didn't come to Rotary.

Al is from Philadelphia, the city of Brotherly Love. Al took a 20,000 mile road trip after graduating from pharmacy school and passing his boards. He ended up his road trip in Simi Valley and started Tapo Pharmacy. Al's mother had a beauty shop where some of her clients introduced him to his past wife Dee. They had two children, Scott and Sharon. Scott is a pharmacist and has two children and Sharon lives in Oregon.

Al likes to travel and has been all over the world. One of his more memorable moments came on a balloon ride in Africa with a not so soft landing!

Rocky was happy to be here at Rotary and for the Neurology Department. Darryl was happy to take Rocky to his appointment and for his dad's upcoming open heart surgery. Kate was happy for Paige, the Bell and not hitting the leg of the table. Tristan was happy for our speaker Marybeth and the gymnastic competition. Michele was happy for our guests. Lew was happy for our guests and Waze. Henry was happy to be in California. Kelly was happy for Emma's braces. I was happy to have a prescription bottle for our scan disc. Joe was happy for the Broncos and my interview with his daughter, Shae. Allan was happy for our guests. Ginny was happy for our guests and speaker.

Happy Bucks!

Workforce Education Coalition

Marybeth Jacobsen

In 2012 the Simi Valley Chamber of Commerce formed the Workforce Education Coalition (WEC) to develop programs to expose high school students to career opportunities. The WEC is staffed by Marybeth Jacobsen who practiced law in Illinois and California for twenty years before receiving her secondary education teaching certificate. The WEC creates partnerships between businesses and local schools to help build a skilled regional workforce.

Students are exposed to careers by tours in Environmental Science, Healthcare and Manufacturing. Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) skills are encouraged for young women and men. Students are also prepared for careers at monthly dinners meetings. They are taught crucial interviewing and networking skills such as proper dress codes, developing greeting and handshakes and initiating and maintaining good business conversations.

The WEC has inspired careers and open minds of others for careers opportunities in a unique partnership of the city businesses and schools. Students have a better understand of their future and renewed relevance in their studies.

Character Counts by Reverend Dr. Lew Fry

Rev. Dr. Lew Fry tells a story of how character counts in a detention camp for juvenile girls in the Los Angeles Probation Department. A talented young girl in the camp wrote a sad poem of her love for her father. The poem describes a irreplaceable love for her father that was lost when she went to camp and her father stopped speaking with her. However Lew happily reports the father is reestablishing contact with the girl.
