Simple slice(Pam Howard)

Melt together 4oz butter & ¾ cup sugar(I use brown sugar) in a saucepan. Allow to cool slightly. Add a beaten egg & 1/2 tsp vanilla. Stir in 1 cup SR flour & 1 cup of sultanas.
Place in a slice tray (approx. 9inch square) Can sprinkle with slivered almonds or leave as is .
Bake in a moderate oven 20—30 mins

Don't you hate it when you put something in a safe place so you don't lose it-then forget that safe place is? (Kay)

Another few weeks have passed and another meeting day gone by. My job so far this year has been very easy. Hopefully we may be able to get together within a few months if things keep going as they are. It will be interesting to share experiences when we finally get back. The last few months have certainly been nothing like we have ever been through before. Sometimes it doesn't seem real.

We are in the best place in the world at the moment. As a State we have done very well and just need to be patient for a bit longer. It is hard to believe the way some people in other countries are protesting about getting back to normal when they are still in so much trouble.

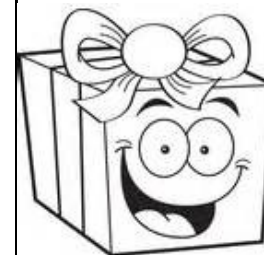

I trust you are all keeping well and still finding plenty to occupy yourselves. Baking has been a pastime for some. I have tried some new recipes, which is interesting. Some will be used again and some won't. Please let us know if you hear of anyone who is not well or needs some help.

Keep safe and hope to see you all soon.

Regards Kay

A History Lesson.(a bit of trivia from Marie Adams) In the 1500's. Next time you are showering and the water temperature isn't just right think how things used to be. Here are some facts about the 1500's. Most people got married in June because they took their yearly bath in May and still smelled pretty good in June, however they were starting to smell a little as time went on so brides carried a bouquet of flowers to hide their body odour. Hence the custom of carrying a bouquet when getting married.

Baths consisted of a big tub filled with hot water. The man of the house had the privilege of the nice clean water, then all the other sons and men of the household, then the women and finally the children, last of all the babies. By then the water was so dirty you could actually lose someone in it. Hence the saying don't throw the baby out with the bath water.

BIRTHDAYS IN MAY

Birthday wishes are extended to these ladies.

Jokes from Kay Bailey

A Woman's Poem

He didn't like the casserole
And he didn't like my cake,
He said my biscuits were too hard
Not like his mother used to make.
I didn't perk the coffee right
He didn't like the stew,
I didn't mend his socks
The way his mother used to do

I pondered for an answer
I was looking for a clue
Then I turned and smacked him, HARD

Like his mother used to do

WRONG AGAIN

Marriage is a relationship in which one person is always right, and the other is usually the husband

When our lawn mower broke and wouldn't run, my wife kept hinting to me that I should get it fixed

But somehow I always had something else to take care of first:
The truck, the car, e-mail, ebay, always something more important to me

Finally she thought of a clever way to make her point

When I arrived home one day, I found her seated in the tall grass, busily snipping away with a tiny pair of sewing scissors

I watched silently for a short time and then went into the house,
I was gone only a few minutes.

When I came out again I handed her a toothbrush,
"When you finish cutting the grass", I said "you might as well sweep the driveway".

The doctors say I will walk again, but will always have a limp.
