Helping youth succeed

It seems appropriate that during Rotary's Youth Services Month that JGR can take pride in several young men and who are reaching high. Two recipients of club scholarships graduated last weekend from

UAS: Callie Conerton, above,

(BA, elementary education) and Marcos Galindo (BS, Social Science). The club awards three

$1,000 scholarships annually: a general; one honoring Mac Behrends (son of Dick and Candy Behrends); and one commemorating Corey

King (son of JGR member Ron King).

Yerkes was inducted into the Honor Society at JDHS two weeks ago. Sahil

Youth Leadership training in March.

THMS senior reels in 1st place in poster contest

Thunder Mountain senior Jonallen Eshnear has won this year's Day at the Lake poster design contest (right). She is a student of art teacher David Sheakley Early. They each will receive $100 during a club presentation, May 18.

Every year, JGR sponsors the competition in cooperation with the Juneau School District. Club members select their favorites (amongst a hundred-plus entries) and the winning poster is used to promote the Family Fishing Day at the Lake, which this year is June 3. Poster production this year is being coordinated by JGR member and former middle school teacher Mary Capobianco. Member Tim Banazsak is the club's overall DATL coordinator.

Honorable Mentions include two Auke Bay fifth graders: Taeyang Hassin, who is in Joann Jones's class and Grace McAdoo, a student of Elena Marin. Artistic Merit Awards went to Claire Engstrom a student of Dzantik'I Heeni art teacher, Miah Lager, and two other students of David Sheakley Early, senior William Wallace and freshman Erykah Biddinger.
