JGR places second in race; brings home donation towards re-building playground

At the District 5010 conference last weekend, JGR took second place in the March competition to be the first to raise $1,049 to donate to ShelterBox, an official Rotary International partner. The amount matches the miles in the annual Iditarod sled dog race, which commemorates the 1925 delivery of diphtheria serum to Nome. In addition, JGR was presented with a $100 check to help rebuild Twin Lakes play structures, which burned April 24.

Ransom takes artistic reins at Jazz & Classics

Emory University piano professor Will Ransom is the new artistic director of Juneau Jazz & Classics. He follows the 30-year stint of Linda Rosenthal, co-founder of the annual series. Ransom performs around the world, solo and with orchestras. A Julliard grad, he has made several recordings. Jazz & Classics performances run May 5-20.

Solomon Alper, L, and Portland Highbaugh cook at the Glory Hole April 27, assisted by Lucy Ibesate, Claudette Kreuzenstein, Robert Minch and Theresa Young (of Lat 58 Club). Sharon Baron shopped.
