Beginning of the end for JGR's inbound Ricardo

The club's inbound exchange student, Ricardo Caravati of Sardinia, Italy, participates in his last JGR meeting this Thursday. Ricardo (left, with his host parents Gordy and Julie Olson at last weekend's bar mitzvah for Jill Ramiel's son) departs June 4 for a two-week west coast tour with other District 5010 inbounds. That itinerary includes San Francisco, San Diego, Las Vegas, and the Grand Canyon. Ricardo earned money for that trip by selling Italian-themed meals.

In addition, club member Sharon Barton (above) last week generously dedicated her $265 winnings from the Dale Staley Memorial raffle to Ricardo (who had a qualifying ticket many times throughout the year).

Ricardo (at right at last Sunday's JDHS graduation with Juneau Rotary inbound Jaime Moreno and rebound Claire Uchytel) also lived with Steve and Emily Ricci and Dana and Trevor Richards.

Now in the 30th year, the fourth Thursday evening meal for 60+

Sixty-five individuals needing an evening meal were served Spanish rice, bread, and fresh salad with homemade dressing last Thursday evening. JGR is in its 30th year of making dinner at the Glory Hole homeless shelter on the fourth Thursday of each month. For 28 of those years, Robert Minch (top left, on right) was shopper and head chef (as he was last week). Reuben Willis (above, center) made it a family affair, bringing his wife, Erin, and two daughters, Paige (left) and Helena. Other helpers included Kim Kiefer (top, left), Tara Peters (above, hiding behind the celery), JGR inbound Ricardo (above), and (not pictured) Laury Scandling and Mary Capobianco.

Rotaract donates $3,500 to REACH

Rotaract President-Elect Marciano Durand reported at last week's meeting that the club (for 18-30-year-olds) donated $3,500 to REACH (services for those experiencing developmental disabilities). The funds were raised during the club's Kindness and Couture fashion show this spring.
