ABOUT THIS COURSE

This course consists of eight chapters. Two of the chapters (6 & 7) contain linked resource documents. In chapter 6, the Phoenix 100 Rotary Club's Field of Dreams project provides an Arizona classic example of the possibilities of a huge collaborative effort. In chapter 7, Norma's History of the Sierra Norte de Puebla Projects needs to be read in its entirety before participating in one of the scheduled video conference discussions on that subject.

COURSE SYNOPSIS

- Chapter 1: The Motivation for Meaningful Service Projects
- Chapter 2: Where To Begin — What Will Be Your Project?
- Chapter 3: The Motivation & Rationale for Collaboration
- Chapter 4: Choosing Your Partner(s) in the Project
- Chapter 5: Packaging Your Project
- Chapter 6: Promoting Your Project
- Chapter 7: Financing Your Project
- Chapter 8: Perpetuating Your Project

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Chapters 1, 2, 3 & 5 require an e-mailed response to the instructor.

Chapters 4, 6 and 8 have application exercises, but require no written response.

Chapter 7 requires on-line participation in a scheduled Video Conference. These identical teleconferences via Zoom will be scheduled at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 10, and then again at 7:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 14. Please select the date that works best for you, reserve it on your calendar, and email to me your choice of dates.. Expect to spend one hour in an on-line discussion with your classmates.

Note: I always respond to any emailed assignments I receive. If you have not heard from me within one week after you have submitted an assignment, please re-send it to me. The original may have been lost, or somehow became buried in other email.
