HAPPY DOLLARS

Brian Berg recently spent time in Florida – Siesta Key and The Villages where all the crazy old people ride around in their golf carts.

Roger Smith's grandmother is 100+ 2 months.

Bill Kelley's oldest and youngest were home for Christmas.

Wes Crocket is grateful that Damar Hamlin is recovering.

Pat Groenewold had successful cataract surgery a week ago with another next Wednesday.

Nancy Redmon remembered what a fun gal Phyllis O'Connell was by recalling one district conference when Phyllis and Bob Keller danced on a table!

Rachel received approval of her slate of board officers from the Past Presidents.

Linda Dressler was happy to have her granddaughter in town for a week at Christmas.

Gene Walters was proud of his daughter's performance as Clara in The Nutcracker, the first wine bottle turned in for the Classic Wine Pull, and Happy New Year!

Randy Gangaloo published his first Buzz! Thanks, Randy.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

Names were drawn for each of the past two weeks we didn't meet and one for today. They were 1) Ted Gross; 2) Gayle Vandenberg; and 3) Linda Dressler. No one's chosen card revealed the Queen of Hearts, but Ted's card showed the Queen of Diamonds which made him a money winner! (10% of the pot)

FUN & FROLIC FINE MASTER ~ George Panopoulos

George had five envelopes with each one containing a question. George gave the answers and members had to guess the question. Everyone paid $1 for each wrong guess.

Answer: DAMN IT!

Question: What does Bob Fleischer say when his table runs out of bread rolls?

Answer: 52

Question: How many concerts did Mike Olach attend last year?

Answer: Are you serious?

Question: What do Linda Dressler and Gene Walters say every time the Fed raises rates.

Answer: It's Impossible

Question: What does Bill Kelley say every time he tries to count all his money?

Answer: The John Hancock Observation Deck and Don Minor.

Question: What are two things that are really high?

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

Brian Berg presented a special parting gift to Bob Whitehead (retiring next week) in appreciation to ten years of service to our club. Bob thanked "a great group of people" and promised Chandlers will continue with business as usual to our club.
